

ATTN: Graduate Students, Your Research is Groundbreaking!

You could win money for it!

How?

The internationally-renowned 3MT competition awards cash prizes, travel, and Sigma Xi memberships to graduate students who can explain their research effectively and engagingly to non-experts. BUT: You have to do it in three minutes, with one slide!

When?

Application Deadline

Monday, October 14, 2019

Competition Dates

First Heat: Thursday, October 24, 2019

Finals: Tuesday, November 5, 2019

Questions?

Contact the Office of Graduate Studies at graduate@ku.edu

Register now!

Head to graduate.ku.edu/3mt-competition to learn more about the fall 2019 KU 3MT®. While you are there, follow the link and register to participate.

The Fine Print:

Make sure you read the eligibility, rules, and requirements before you apply - this competition has unique parameters. We also provide resources to help you prepare your presentation.

[graduate.ku.edu/
3mt-competition](http://graduate.ku.edu/3mt-competition)

1st Place

$500

Travel, lodging, and expenses paid to compete at Regionals in Milwaukee, WI

2nd Place

$250

People's Choice

$125

Sigma Xi will provide free membership to their society to the top presenters in the Heats, whose research is in the social sciences, natural sciences, and engineering.

